A photograph of a man in a tuxedo, including a white shirt, a dark bow tie, and white cuffs, standing bare-chested. He is holding a glass of champagne. Behind him is a dark background with a 'HAPPY NEW YEAR' banner made of blue and gold sequins. The scene is framed by silver tinsel curtains on both sides.

Gay Wars?

Well my dear readers it's that time again to hear my dreary nagging about social equality. Now let's not go too far and say that in any way I want you to embrace all of mankind, yadda, yadda, yadda. Hell, hate who you want but remember a cardinal rule: know that person before you hate them.

Now I know this will sound kinda like one of my old articles but listen well and you'll see I have new motives to work off.

Recently I've been having a problem and his name is Tyler -- can't say his last name, so just Tyler for now. Tyler is what most would call a "Closet Case." I think of him more as a person whose closet has been bricked over by over-religious parents. But anyhow, Tyler and I had a fling a week before homecoming and were planning a good relationship when things plummeted and went to hell -- which I am used, to so no biggy.

Tyler became the bane of my existence, a war was instantly started; rumors hurled about him, pasted all over the school gossip lines, many were hurled at me. The battle raged for weeks, months even, dragging numerous people into the fray. Finally physical force would be used when a ceasefire was called from both sides and for a period the battlefield of my school lay quiet, till a new person emerged from the smoke.

William, he was the tiebreaker. Now William had a secret, we went to grade school together and never knew why were friends. I was the fat kind he was the skinny kid, well I guess we know now what we had in common then. I took him quickly to my side and claimed him as mine as he did to me. We were allies in a war against Tyler.

And it started up again. This time new things were pulled in and it goes on, but you get the picture. Well, recently William and I retaliated in the war with a CD with two songs on it: "Hated" by Nikki Clearly and "You Picked The Wrong Fag To Fuck With" by Gay Pimp AKA Jonny McGovern. So Tyler took the line to a new level and took it to the deans at school and we almost faced suspension during our critical senior year, next to his pathetic existence in the sophomore class.

Now I'm here to share light and insight. In all three sexual-ity worlds there are wars, lesbians with gays, gays on gays, lesbians on straight and what not. But the thing is that we shouldn't be doing this.

You're wasting energy, write a book, vent somehow and get over it. Your crown is too pretty to get sweaty. So move on past the battle, cut the losses and bid the bitch you were fighting farewell. Then walk off feeling that you won. So don't stew, get over it, as William and I have. Chances are someone is talking behind your back, oh well, let them. Your kingdom or queendom is still the best in your world and you should keep it that way. ♡

Come on and respond to me, Crayak87@yahoo.com

We'll start the New Year off with a bang! Be careful not to celebrate too much. With Mercury, Venus, Mars, and Pluto in Sagittarius, you will have a tendency to do things in excess. Jupiter is in Libra. It's a good idea to spend your time with your mate. You'll find new understandings together. Venus and Mars will be going into Capricorn on the 9th. You will discover yourself looking more toward your career and setting new foundations in your life, especially after the new moon on the 10th. The full moon on the 25th will calm you down and bring you into more creative and romantic attitudes.

Aries March 21-April 20 This is a time for you to look to the future, especially with your career. Concentrate on what you want, and then wait; the opportunity will present itself before the full moon. Make sure you are looking for it. After the full moon passes you will feel less pressure and restriction and your love life will be full-stream ahead.

Taurus April 21- May 20 This month is a time for contemplation and reflection; a time to access your goals and values in life. Keep an open mind. The only limits and boundaries that are upon you are your own. Listen to what others say even if you may not agree with them; they may open you up to another avenue. Remember this is not a time to act, but a time to cultivate new ideas.

Gemini May 21-June 20 The same old lines will not work this month. You will be challenged to walk outside of your natural pattern. You must keep your word and fulfill those promises. Go with the flow. You will have time to do it all as long as you don't over-analyze the events of your life right now. You'll feel a lot better when February arrives.

Cancer June 21st-July 20 Balance is the keyword for you this month. Try to keep a cool head about things. You're having to set your boundaries. Be careful to draw the line with a firm hand, but not demanding. It's a time to walk away from things that are no longer serving you. You are confident in your beliefs now; use that to keep your emotions in check.

Leo July 21st-August 20 Hold off on the networking until after the full moon on the 25th. The beginning of the month is a time to turn inward, looking at you values and beliefs. Start changing your day-to-day habits to reflect those principals. You'll find your association with others after the full moon more credible and your love life will spice-up!

Virgo August 21st-September 20th The new moon in Virgo on the 10th gives you a need to get away from your dull routine and brings extraordinary opportunities to light. Make those quick decisions this month. There is no need to over analyze. Your first impression is correct. When it comes to your love life, however, this does not apply. You are extremely impressionable by the ones you love right now.

Libra September 21st-October 20th Your focus turns toward work and career now; the key is to get the job done right. Others in Authority will notice your accomplishments. This is a good time to critique your actions and turn your energy around to look forward at where you need to go to achieve success. Pay particular attention to your dreamtime; it is showing you the best direction to take.

Scorpio October 21st-November 20th Your work is going strong this month. This is good because you will need the money to pay off the overspending you did last month. Don't worry so much about those bills when they come in; you are resourceful and if you just focus on them month-to-month. You will be able to pay them. Besides, by the end of the month, you will receive financial benefit through your efforts.

Sagittarius November 21st-December 20th With Mars, Venus, Mercury, and Pluto in your sign this month, you will be active. Be honest; you can't do every thing. This is a good time to learn how to prioritize and compromise. Don't be surprised if things you thought were finished return. You are finding you have less control over the circumstances. You will find it easier if you go with the flow and learn from every situation.

Capricorn December 21st- January 20th Happy Solar return! This month you'll want to spend quality time with quality people in your life. Your career is going well and does not need your attention right now; focus on allowing your personal life to grow. Open up to those close to you; listen to what they have to say. You will find the answers you are looking for by doing so.

Aquarius January 21- February 20th You'll feel dissatisfied with your work this month, but this is not the time to change careers. Try to make work a little more interesting. The energies are telling you to look at your long-term goals. In your free time take stock of your talents, which might be worth further exploring. Look into what you might be able to do with your skills. Next month may bring a surprising opportunity.

Pisces February 21st- March 20th This month is all about you. It's time to detach from others and their influence on you.

Look into your ambitions and goals right now. The beginning of the month may be challenging; don't let it stop you from exploring your hopes and dreams. All will work out in the time it is supposed to. Remember; it's all about you right now.

For those who want to know: By the request of some of my faithful readers (whom I thank) I have included the dates for each sign. These dates can vary from month to month and year to year because the sun does not tell time like we do. There can be up to a 3-day difference. This is what astrology calls the cusp. Anyone born on the cusp of a sign takes on the traits of both signs. However the sign your sun is truly in has the stronger influence.

Tea Time

with Miss T

You know dear, it's hard for an old girl to keep up with all the changes: bars opening, bars coming out, bars closing, bars transforming – recently it's been more difficult than keeping track of who's doing whom! Well here's the dirt: new bar – Rainbow Room, on Merritt Island; bar coming out – Charlotte's Web; bar closed – Nautical Jack's; bar transformed – VIPs into REBAR. The frost is clearing on my martini glass, so with my head resting comfortably on the bar rail, I can peer deep into the olive and see what's coming, so to speak, in the new year.

I see Brevard Team Works organizing, with a nominal $5 membership fee, luncheons, potlucks, dances, member initiated trips and more! To get in on the fun, sign up at their Yahoo! Group, <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/BrevardTeamWorks>.

I see Christmas services at the Family of God in Christ Church in Cocoa on Friday, December 24th at 9:00 PM and at East Coast MCC in Port St. Lucie Christmas Eve at 6 PM at the Best Western, 7900 South US1 (note change of venue for this service) and in Melbourne at 10:30 PM at UU, 2185 Meadowland Ave (just off 192). If you're new to the area, or new to these services see the maps on page 12.

There's new fun on Merritt Island: Rainbow Room has opened at Banana Breeze. It's a great location, wonderful owners, familiar faces behind the bar and some new meat around the place to spice things up. Now it's true that the current location is temporary, but that's part of the plan: two openings for one bar! Brian and Jim are busy planning surprises in every show, special guests in drag, or maybe in tight Speedos – you'll never know, so you'll have to show up to find out! They really go all out for prizes and giveaways. I foresee another grand opening sometime in the spring when the Rainbow Room is reborn at its new location. They're even going to be open till 4am New Year's eve so you can party until you can't party no more!

Rainbow Room owners Jim (left) and Brian (right) with doorman Jon (center). What's bartender Jeff (behind Jon) up to? And what's bartender CJ (behind Jeff) grinning about? I'll never tell!

Nautical Jack's is no more. There was storm damage to the plaza and the "anchor tenant" the Salvation Army Thrift Store moved out. So the landlord lowered the boom. I predict that in the not too distant future the place will be completely empty – me thinks it's less expensive to tear it down than fix the roof. That's not to say NJ's was totally innocent. But not all is lost; I see a new place opening in a few months with some familiar people involved.

The Cold Keg is always involved in fun at mega-parties and their New Years bash will be no exception. Sharon and Brant have been working, when they haven't been birthdaying, to make sure this year's event will be another amazing event with the fun running to the wee hours with their special 4 am close, midnight buffet, two shows and the $1000 balloon drop. Plan ahead.

The People Care Center is planning ahead, beyond their January 16 fundraiser, to fill in the gaps in the support for those impacted by HIV/AIDS in Indian River County, with a special emphasis on those in needy areas. They are a concerned group of people who want to provide better living conditions, improved lives for children, new way to help those in need. There will be a concerted effort to communicate to youth about HIV/AIDS issues, as no one is addressing this important at-risk audience now. This is particularly important not that federal funds have been cut off to for any education except abstinence. I see great things in the future for The People Care Center. Is it any surprise to anyone that this group grew out of Vero Beach PFLAG?

Bliss is growing again with a special show on the Sunday after Christmas (December 26, 11 PM) with Kelli Randell! Of course Devine will be there with the rest of the cast, but you can be sure you'll see lots of old and new faces at this Christmas present to Vero from Elton and Tangle. I foresee many more special events at Bliss next year.

Club Bird Cage is going to be open Christmas Eve and Christmas Day night, complete with shows! Randy and Janet recognize that not everyone has family obligations (and some that do need an escape) so they're going to provide everyone with someplace to be both nights. Then just a week later Club Bird Cage has their annual New Year's Eve party. No special cover, just a special night with food, shows, champagne, favors and F U N. They're kicking off the new year with the hurricane-delayed Miss Club Bird Cage Pageant on Monday, January 24, so there's plenty of time to rework those New Year's Eve

Spiritually Speaking

I recently heard someone singing a new version of the old holiday song, "All I want for Christmas . . ." The new version went something like this – "All I want for Christmas is an end to hurricane season." It doesn't rhyme, but most of us would agree that 2004 has been a very challenging year. Some of us have a unique holiday list this year: new roofs, repaired fences, etc.

I will be so happy when 2005 finally arrives. The New Year will bring us opportunities for new beginnings and fresh starts. Hopefully we won't see a repeat of the events of 2004. Between election ads, hurricanes, and other disasters, many of us are ready to celebrate a new year.

New beginnings can be challenging. Sometimes new beginnings require changes to old traditions. At East Coast MCC, we are facing the challenge of making changes from the past. We are in the process of offering a portion our church worship services on the internet. Sometimes the old traditions don't fit everyone's life in this new century.

Being willing to make changes and adapt to a changing world is not always easy. To let go of the past can sometimes require a lot of us. So many people talk about change, but very few will actually follow through. As 2005 approaches, I challenge our community to allow change to enter our lives.

1. We need to let go of the past. Organizations are always being faced with change. Some members only want what is found in the comfort zones of the past. Being willing to move into new territory may allow organizations to become stronger and experience greater growth.
2. We need to let go of the fears. Just because something happened in the past doesn't mean we should be afraid the rest of our lives. We need to learn to face our fears and grow beyond them. Don't let your fears control your life.
3. We need to let go of past mistakes. Grudges are easier to keep than growing beyond the mistakes of the past. If we live in the mistakes of the past, we will never grow into the people we were created to be.

4. Embrace change. Don't embrace change just to be different, but in order to grow into the new technology and wonders of the future. There are so many new things coming our way. We should look forward to experiencing them.

Enjoy your new year. Embrace new things. Allow yourself to grow in new ways during 2005. Perhaps this will be your greatest year. ▼ rags into something blue. Call Kelli Randell for more info (see the ad page 9 for details). They're not finished yet! February brings Kelli's big charity event, Hearts of Pride benefit for babies with AIDS on February 13. Mark your calendar now, as there's nothing like is event anywhere.

It's nothing like you've seen around here; REBAR is a video music bar (over 21 only). Monitors galore, a video projector and no drag shows. Just think:

the video on-screen is actually the same as the music that's playing! Dance to your favorite tune with your favorite group or find out which song goes with that video you've seen in the background other places (or vice versa). Jim and Jerry have done the space in an industrial theme, pool tables, dartboards and the dance floor are there, but the look is completely different. REBAR's New Year's Eve party has a silver theme, so here's a chance to put on your best silver bling and show off at a coverless event. I see a year of silver-themed events at a bar where you can uncover a new kind of fun.

I've uncovered plans for the annual Gay Pride Celebration in PSL. Not to dis the picnic Andrew and Lori put together last year - which has to be regarded as the start - but with the bars working together and planning ahead for the St. Lucie County Pride event in March, it promises to be something bigger and better! It doesn't take a mystic to see that with Club Bird Cage and REBAR co-sponsoring the event our community is making a major leap forward. Don't look for floats and a parade but more of a gathering for food, fun and pride. By making it our own kind of event, it's easy to see that in a few years folks will be coming NORTH for a special Pride Celebration!

Gay Rights tidbit: When our rights are up for a vote, it's too late to organize and be effective. We need to do that now. Only one person has signed up for the Melbourne Gay Rights Meetup. It's important and it's something you can do now to make sure we're ready to respond when the fundamentalists put our right to civil unions up for a vote. And if you're in IR or SL counties, start your own group, I'll give you all the support I can. We need to get moving right after the holidays - the fundies are already on the move in Tallahassee!
