HOROSCOPE by Jacqueline

April rushes in on the wings of a dragon bringing with it a feel of urgency. Nothing is urgent. The world is making stow foundational changes. With Mars going into Aries on the 2nd, followed with the New Moon in Aires on the 3rd, we are blessed with sudden opportunities that will enhance one's wellbeing not only emotionally but physically as well. As Neptune goes into Pisces on the 4th, we become more spiritually aware and compelled to use our faith instead of what we see to make sound judgments for when Pluto goes retrograde on the 9th what we see my not be the truth! The full moon in Libra late degrees on the 17th shifts the scales to restore balance to our emotions. Next, as Venus goes into Aries on the 21st we are brought back to the sudden changes that brought us closer to what we love. Finally, as Mercury goes direct on the 23rd a clear path is present to us so that we may attain our short term and recognize our long-term goals!

Aries March 23 - April 22 Happy Solar Return! The biggest decisions you'll make this year are presented to you this month! With Mars in your sign, your natural abilities to lead come into focus as friends and coworkers seek out your advice in professional and personal matters. This combined with your charisma and wit, affords you the opportunity to launch new plans on the 3rd as the New Moon in Aries enhances your communicative skills. Obstacles in your path will only be a nuisance as they will diminish after the 23rd when Mercury goes direct.

Taurus April 23 - May 22 This is your time for personal growth and enlightenment. The information you've gathered in the preceding months has now come into the forefront, especially in your one to one relationships. Choose your words and actions wisely. Water signs are attracted to you with words of advice and wisdom. Listen to them, hear their wisdom and weigh your words before you speak. After the 20th, you'll find financial stability and the ability to keep your house in order.

Gemini May 23 - June 22 With Mercury in retrograde until the 23rd, now is not the time for you to make commitments or overextend yourself in personal or professional matters. Postpone any agreements and suggest alternative plans until this retrograde has subsided. Fret not, the obstacles that hinder your progress will dissipate between the New Moon on the 3rd and the Full Moon on the 20th. After Mercury goes direct, you'll have the ability to move forward and regain lost momentum.

Cancer June 23 - July 22 Your personal best may not be enough as your good intentions might be misinterpreted and you feel pushed and rushed into decisions not of your liking. Nothing is urgent, use caution and weigh your

It's not that there's no news this month, just no In the News column – not enough room after all the local happenings! The top of the news is Pride of the Treasure Coast on April 10 at the Port St. Lucie Civic Center, Walton Road and US 1. Noon to 6, it's the place to be: great vendors, outstanding entertainment and lots of people to see! We'll see you there!

And of course the big party afterwards is at REBAR where there's always a fun time and another show to finish off the day's festivities.

We attended several big parties last month. First to mind was at Ultra Lounge for Moose's birthday party, where the highlight was the surprise appearance of a whole flock of boys in underwear to beguile the guest of honor (and the crowd was a bit beguiled as well).

Then came the Saint Patrick's Day parties, on a Thursday. Oh my! And to think that next year it will be on a Saturday. My, my, my. Judging on this year's turnout, next year will have folks hanging from the rafters!

And only a couple of days later Cold Keg had Velvet Lenore's party! She and her troupe turn in a fantastic performance and the guest male dancer, from Atlanta, astounded much of the crowd with his display. It was another amazing night at Cold Keg with a heartfelt salute to Velvet.

Big crowds, big fun, great times for everyone. And that doesn't even count the Space Coast Pride benefits: one at the end of February at Cold Keg and the annual comedy event at Ultra Lounge. Thousands of dollars were raised toward the big Brevard event at the end of May from people coming out and having a great time to help The Living Room throw a the biggest party of the year for us all.

The Living Room throws great events all year long and the March Gay Skate was no exception. It's always a fun time and we're always surprised at the number of people who say afterward that they're sorry they missed it. Not to worry, though, there'll be another one this summer. Next up is Gay Bowling April 3.

After that all of The Living Room's attention will be focused on Space Coast Pride for May 29. By the way, they still need some volunteers – just contact Brandon, the volunteer coordinator, or send an email to info@TLRbrevard.org. There's plenty to do, but only few picnic tables to move this year. All the vendors will be outside so those overweight picnic tables are staying in the pavilion. And if you volunteer to help clean up, you do know that the last thing to be cleaned up is the tapped kegs, right?

Spiritually Speaking

Sometimes it seems history speeds up and all sorts of changes are felt from politics to religion to economics to societal norms. So was the 1960's in the USA. The status quo in many areas and spheres of influence were challenged and changed.

If people did not challenge the way things were, I wonder how that would have affected our present state of affairs in 2011? Gay rights, racial / civil rights, feminism, war-mongering, the so-called 'sexual revolution' and so much more were all explored and questioned. Although the United States provided for peaceful demonstration and freedom of speech, it was not ready for the implications of the 1960's. It created a non-stop train of sorts that is still running the tracks today. When the status quo is challenged it creates tension and obviously controversy.

The 1989 number-one Billy Joel hit song; "We Didn't Start the Fire" chronicles major events and personalities that have shaped history from the pivotal years of 1949 to 1989. Earth shattering changes took place within that span of time, from Truman politics, the Korean War, Communist Bloc, Rock and Roll, 'Peyton Place,' Khrushchev, JFK's assassination, thalidomide, Watergate to AIDS.

We didn't start the fire
It was always burning
Since the world's been turning
We didn't start the fire
No we didn't light it
But we tried to fight it"

Joel, in this song, was speaking to an entire generation, blaming the older for the problems the younger now are stuck with; the 'fire' alluding to societal turmoil, conflict, prejudice, and hatred that exist in the world. It has been there since the dawn of human civilization and each generation must do all that they can to fight that 'fire'. It is almost a call to arms to try and put that fire out. "We didn't light it but we tried to fight it."

But, so much more has taken place since that era. It seems history becomes larger as the amplitude of time manifests. These days are particularly notable. Aside from man-made conflicts such as 9/11, terrorism, turmoil in the Middle East, upheaval in Arab nations, deranged dictators, economic slowdown and excessive greediness of corporations— mankind is all too aware of the wrath of nature. We have seen with our own eyes through television and internet the compelling images from quake-stricken places in Haiti, China, Chile, New Zealand, and Japan.

We are shapers of history.

Some things we cannot control. We may not be able to control natural disasters, but human events, trends, and movements can be controlled. We are makers of history in how we respond to what is happening all around us. The 'fire' must be put out. The song continues: "but when we are gone will it still burn on?" The excuse "I didn't do it" is NOT acceptable to a world that looks for change and a better day coming. You see,

We've been a little under the weather this past couple of weeks with that awful cold that's been going around so we're a little run down and can't think of anything more to ramble on about. Well, we do remember enjoying a straight boy whose girl friend was so enamored of his new underwear she made him show them off – see the lower left photo on the Ultra Lounge picture page. Gotta love any boys who will drop trou in the middle of the sidewalk! And, for once our camera was ready.

Oh, and we did have a wonderful time for a completely different brunch – the Treasure Coast brunch bunch had theirs at Jaycee Park and Arnie did the honors at the grill. As usual, we drug the 'rents along and they had a great time being out at the beach. It was a wonderful way to spend the first day of spring.

And, finally, under the theme of long range planning, Rae Abell, from the Family of God Church is already planning for the Candlelight Remembrance in Cocoa Village on World AIDS Day this fall. If you're interested in getting involved search World AIDS Day Brevard on Facebook.

Gay Rights tidbit: It's Gay Pride season here in Florida. Time to reflect on how far we've come and how far we yet have to go. While we celebrate our lives we need to take a moment and look around. What can each of us do to make our community better? That may be no more than registering and voting for politicians who recognize us as valuable community members, or voting against ones who oppose Gay Rights. For others it may be the most difficult thing of all: coming out to friends, family and co-workers. For others it is to get involved in PFLAG, The Living Room, Pride of the Treasure Coast, Equality Florida, start a local GLBT political club or even run for office. Why not? If not now, when? It's Pride time, time to be proud of ourselves, what we are, what we do, what we decisions before taking action. Capitalize on this moment and visualize what works for you. With Venus and Neptune conjunct, you'll be more creative and realistic in formalizing your personal and career goals.

Leo July 23 – August 22 The voices in your head are not of your imagination. Mars and Jupiter are giving you words of encouragement as they guide you towards new relationships and projects. The key to your success is not meaningless action but persistence, more than communication. Don't push anything. Enjoy the new adventures and all will fall into place after the 23rd.

Virgo August 23 – September 22 Fire and Water signs are your allies this month as this Mercury retrograde causes you to act on obligation, which is unproductive and time consuming in the big picture. Take this time to re-evaluate the things that are important to you. With Venus in Pisces, you are being called to look inward to a deeper love of yourself. Don't overextend yourself or fall prey to the intentions of others as this will be your undoing.

Libra September 23 – October 22 Congratulations! You have reached the halfway point of your year but you still find yourself waiting for that second wind. Abandoning unfinished project won't bring you any relief as they require your attention. With Mercury in retrograde and Mars in Aries, expect delays and interruptions. Take some "me" time and indulge in a relaxing activity. Next month it will be easier and those important projects will be less difficult to finish.

Scorpio October 23 – November 22 This Mercury retrograde has you spinning in circles making you want for needles things and forgetting what is important to you. Stop! Slow Down! Take a deep breath and relax. Keep it simple and seek advice from your fire friends; as they will help you stay on track until this retrograde has ended.

Sagittarius November 23 – December 22 As with Cancer your good intentions may be misunderstood or taken out of content. Use caution, think twice before you speak and say what you desire in a diplomatic manner. This is a great time to examine adjustments or changes in your career. Capitalize on this moment and implement what works for you.

Capricorn December 23 – January 22 As this retrograde stirs confusion and misunderstandings, you stand staunch and tall like the majestic mountain goat that represents you. Take this retrograde and use it to your advantage. Instead of seeking refuge, embrace the changes and turn them into opportunities. Interruptions may be abundant but you have the fortitude to circumnavigate them.

Aquarius January 23–February 22 Neptune is shadowing Venus now, encouraging you towards romantic delusions. Ask twice to find out what is true. With Jupiter and Saturn opposing your sign, relationships with superiors can be difficult and with Mars in Aries you'll feel a need to speak out despite mercury being retrograde. You'll find phrasing your opinion in a question will help to get your point across.

Pisces February 23 – March 22 This Mercury Retrograde brings with it confusion and misunderstandings and you are not immune to its effects. Before you speak, choose your words wisely and ensure you have your audience's attention. Put off purchasing anything important until after the 25th. However, Venus is on your side and forming attractions out of the ordinary. Follow your intuition and you'll find it surprisingly satisfactory.

For those who want to know: Next month we will have all of our personal planets visiting Taurus. It is has a fixed quality and is known as the bull or on the lighter side, the cow, because of that. The key word I use for it is I have. It's an earth sign and some believe it rules the earth but traditional astrology has it co-ruling Venus, the goddess of love. It rules your personal belongings and monies. Taurus strives for stability wherever it is. It can be as persistent as the bull or as docile as the cow. With Mercury, Venus, Mars, Sun and moon all passing through this sign, we will find solidity to the disorder of this month.

being spiritually impotent is not an excuse to sit on the side lines while the world goes to hell in a hand-basket on our watch. We are all shapers of history.

When we think in terms of time: the roaring 20's the tumultuous 60's, etc, perhaps we are thinking about the end of time also, when 'time shall be no more' and the 'books will be opened' all being judged, when that great roll call sounds forth from the four corners of the earth. Jesus asks his disciples in Luke 18:8:

"When the Son of Man comes, Will he find faith on the earth?"

What will be found on earth? What condition will we have left this planet in when humanity accounts for its actions? Genesis tells us we are committed with responsibility; we are care-takers of creation—therefore, shapers of history. Already we can surmise that some good, some bad, and some ugly and not so ugly events have taken place at our hands (collective humanity).

I don't particularly believe God has chosen a specific date marking the end of mankind's destiny. Our petty measurements of time and space cannot hold up to the Mighty Creator's ways which are beyond our knowing and telling. 2012 may be one date, some say, for the end. Date-picking since as far as can be remembered has failed to materialize the end of days. Many were embarrassed as their prediction came and went.

Any end of time scenario, I believe, depends upon how the inhabitants of this world clean up their act. We may not have started the fire, but we DO fan the flames by living in fear. It is when we stand up with courage and conviction to affect change for the betterment of humanity that the fire will be put out. The recent upheaval in Arab nations give a glimpse of what the people can do to bring about change. The French and Russian revolutions were by and of the people fed up with the status quo of the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer.

Freedom of expression and freedom of the press is the foundation of change. Oppressed nations cannot grow if stifled. Russian communism lasted only some 70 years. Dictators come and eventually go. Seats and thrones of power are in the hands of the Almighty, so there is no room for snobbish attitudes and condescending treatment of the 'people.' Great governments rich in pedigree and wealth have been overturned by the common man and woman, many of whom were considered lowly and simple by the 'high and mighty.'

History has taught us that the proud and pretentious can wake up the next morning without a pot to pee in. The point is: there is no perfect government or political system. We are learning to be better because people stand up, speak out, and expect integrity from their government. The people have a say in how history is shaped. We are history shapers! Let us get to work for a better world! And let us say: AMEN!

 Treasure and Space Coasts' GLBT community

contribute to society. What better time to plan for what we will do in the next year to make our community better, to make our lives better, to make our society better. Time to be positive, think positive and think big. It's Pride. Be Proud. Be Out. Be the best you can be!

Don't see your event mentioned? Did you let me know about it? I'm a fairy, not a seer silly! Let me know, drop a line to MissT@ootcmag.com
